Malus Sargent Tina is a dwarf form of Malus sargentii. It inherits from its parent a remarkable resistance to all of the four main diseases that bother Apples. It is a very clean plant. This plant has an excellent floral display, red buds opening to pure white blooms. The foliage is very small green leaves that turn bright yellow in fall. Small bright red fruit remain on the plant. Because of its disease resistance and its natural beauty, Sargent Tina is one of our best sellers. Robinson Nursery offers Sargent Tina grafted on a 42" standard. We call it an 'Apple on a Stick.'
