Birkenstock Farewell

We are sad to announce that Cynda Foster, our Customer Service Manager for nearly ten years, will be leaving Robinson Nursery to pursue other goals. Her rapport with our customers, her sense of humor and her accurate handling of inventory, allocation and shipping will be missed.

While we think she mostly longs for an environment where her goofy shoes won't be ridiculed, we wish her only the best.

For those of you who wish to keep in touch with Cynda, her email is cynda4@onlinenw.com.

"Best Shrub/ Tree"

Some of the most beautiful plants to come onto the plant market in a long, long time are the dark leaved Physocarpus opulifolius, or Ninebark. We believe the Proven Winners' selection of 'Summer Wine' to be one of the best. We doubt you can name one plant more striking when in bloom. The white flowers are set off against the dark maroon foliage. The shrub is a useful size, 6' or 7' tall and 4' wide, with a graceful arching form. Hold on, there's more! Physocarpus is a Zone 3b plant; surviving and thriving in almost all the temperate zone USA, coastal Alaska and lower Canada. It will grow in acid or alkaline soils and is highly drought tolerant once established. But wait, there's still more! In winter, after the leaves are gone, there is a striking show of white and purple-brown exfoliating bark. This plant does everything except rake up it's own leaves in the fall.

As well as multi-stem, we are growing tree form 'Summer Wine', so the exfoliating bark is always visible. Our two year tops are available in sizes from 4' to 6' branched.
