Our Grow Ready packaging has become a big hit among our customers.

- It reduces shipping costs significantly. The netting from the GRL weighs 11 grams while a container weighs 15 ounces. This means 200 more trees per truck.
- Trunk wraps are not needed because there are no container lips to destroy plants in transit. This translates to a higher percentage of salable products for our customers and no labor is needed to take off the wraps.
- Allows us to reuse our containers thus minimizing impact on environment.
- The plants can be stacked on top of bare root material to fit more trees on a truck while maintaining their quality.
- Growers don't see damage to products through shipping due to cutting edge liner packaging.
- They are ready to plant right off of the truck, no need to take the netting off.
